Ceiling Draping

Ceiling Draping has the ability to transform any room. It's a great way to create a centerpiece or focal for your guests to admire.

Did you know that ceiling draping helps with noise reduction? Creating a fully extended draping canopy throughout the space helps absorb sound. This is ideal for event spaces with higher than average ceilings, concrete walls or flooring.

Pattern Variation

There are various forms of ceiling draping to choose from, and two of the most commonly used are the Starburst and the Swooping patterns.

These designs can turn any room into a soft and intimate space. Essentially, they create more of a wide spread canopy appearance due to the fabric being fully extended.
